Miss Alice Lee Shuckelard of Chicago is visiting relative in this city.

Mrs. M. W. Coulter has returned from an extended visit at Wachsath, Tex.

Mrs. James Cummings is in Millersburg visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Woolman.

Mr. Frank D. Enkert, the bustling representative of The Louisville Dispatch, spent several days with Agent W. C. Warner and made many friends while in this city.

IF you have an item of news, please call up The Leader, Telephone 35, and send it in.

Go to Roper's New Era for a good bowl of turtle soup today.

The marriage of Miss Lela Mae Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gardner, and Mr. B. G. Blair, two young society people of Ripley, will take place June 4th.

Mr. Dallas White of Manchester, who has been suffering with a cancer on the side of his face for some time, went to Paris several days ago, where it was removed. Mr. White has relatives in this city who will be pleased to hear of the success of the operation.

There is a man person going through the flower gardens of the Fourth Ward and stripping them of all the beautiful and fragrant blossoms; and there are also several shagbuns in waiting, and the vandals had better "look a little cool," or they will gather a load of buckshot instead of flowers.

MILK COWS DYING.

They Eat Too Much White Clover and Die in a Few Hours.

Mr. J. R. Davis the Dairyman lost a valuable cow yesterday afternoon.

Her death was caused by eating too much white clover.

A few days since Mr. P. P. Parker of Mayfield lost one from the same cause, and A. R. Glascock & Son of Edgefield Dairy report the loss of three within a short time.

MARRIED AGAIN.

Jerry Anderson, Who Escaped the Sheriff's Noose, Couldn't Escape Hymen's.

Jerry Anderson and Annie Brown, colored, were married in Frankfort a few days ago.

The groom will be remembered as the man who about twenty years ago was sentenced to be hung in this city for the murder of his wife.

His conviction was secured on purely circumstantial evidence, some of that very flimsy, and the witnesses against him were such a bad lot that a commutation to life imprisonment was secured from Governor McCleary after the crowd had gathered to see the hanging.

For many years Jerry had been one of the most trusted "trusties" at Frankfort, and a few years ago he was paroled, which in his case is almost equal to a pardon, for Jerry is too good a man to violate his parole.

HAS RELATIVES HERE.

Mrs. Hannah M. Johnson Died Yesterday Afternoon at Clifton, O.

Mr. J. H. Rains received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Mr. A. H. White announcing the death of Mrs. Hannah M. Johnson at Clifton, O.

She had been liberal in the bestowal of her means, and had educated and installed in business a number of young men.

Among her relatives in this locality are Mrs. James H. Rains, Mr. John D. Bruer, Mr. J. B. Farrow of Mt. Oilead, Mrs. Elias Collins of Flemingsburg and Mr. Thomas A. Davis, of The Leader.

COOKING ACCORDING TO SCIENCE.

Give me a spoon of rice, ma, and the solum alkali.

For I'm going to bake a pie, mamma, I'm going to bake a pie.

For John will be hungry and tired, ma, and his tassets will decompose;

So give me a chunk of caserine, ma, And hand me the cayenne bottle, ma, And look at the thermostat;

And if the electric oven's cold Just turn on half an oven, For I want to have supper ready As soon as John comes home.

Now pass me the neutral dose, mamma, And rotate the mixture slowly, But give me the sterilized water first, And the electrocaryne.

And the phosphate, too, for, now I think, The new pyrolytic's right, And John will need more phosphate food To help his brain a bit.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA! AMERICANS!

The Kansas Populists are in distress. Prosperity has set in in that state without the adoption of the free coinage of silver or any other of their numerous nostrums of this character. Prices of cattle, hogs, wheat, corn, and farm products of all kinds have advanced and there are more signs of activity and prosperity following the rejection of the free coinage of silver than the state has seen for many years.

Pan's abandonment of the silver standard proves to be of the most radical type. Detailed statements of her action on this subject which have reached Washington show that not only does she make gold the standard of value, but the act goes so far as to prohibit the importation of silver coin. Even the products of her own mints which have gone out of the country cannot be returned except at one port, where it must be melted into base.

If Protection is again to be resorted to more rigorously the marine can only be rehabilitated by the perilous system of bounties. The whole arrangement is bad. The United States form a Navy, and then seek a marine for it to protect. England, on the other hand, has to provide a Navy in order to protect her marine. On the Protectionist side, as well as on that of the currency, the Americans have still a great deal to learn and many errors to correct.

The people who have been insisting that the United States needs "more money" are puzzled to know how to explain the fact that a great railway of this country recently refunded more than 100 million dollars of bonds at three and a half per cent. interest, and found plenty of money to take them at that price. If the country really needed more money for general business purposes, that which it has would not be looking for investment at three and a half per cent. per annum.

The Tariff protects the industries in the United States which are subject to foreign competition. But it does not protect American ships which are subject to foreign competition. The Elkins discriminating duty bill proposes to remedy this defect, by imposing a higher duty on imports in foreign than 10 American vessels. The Elkins Bill ought to be a part of the new Tariff Bill. It is the same kind and quality of Protection. It will also increase the revenue.

The opposition to a small duty on wood pulp on the ground that it will increase the cost of paper is one of the exploded dogma of the theoretical Free-trader. The price of pulp is made by home competition, which is very sharp, because the pulp mills produce it beyond the capacity of the country to consume, so that the duty cannot affect the price in the least degree. Some one asks, why have a duty? To give the home markets to pulp makers in the United States who pay taxes and have the first right to it.

A MASS MEETING!

In the Interest of the New Railroad to be Held in Maysville on the 27th.

Colonel Albert E. Boone, Promoter and General Manager of the Black Diamond System of Railways, of which the Maysville, Kentucky and Western Railroad is to be a section, has issued the following circular to the Mayor and the citizens of Maysville:

THE BLACK DIAMOND TRUNK LINE THROUGH THE "SOUTHLAND."

GENERAL OFFICES, KNOXVILLE, TENN. GENERAL MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMESVILLE, O. ALBERT E. BOONE, GENERAL MANAGER.

Honorable Mayor:
It is my purpose, as the Promoter of the Black Diamond System of Railways, to pass through your place with one of its lines. To the end that all can work as one, a grand Railroad Mass Meeting has been called for conference to convene at MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, MAY 27th, 1897, at 2 P. M.

The people of the county of Knox, State of Tennessee, of which Knoxville is the county seat, have pledged a subsidy of $500,000 for the Black Diamond outlet from Knoxville, Tenn., to the Ohio river, and a like sum of $500,000 for the Black Diamond outlet to the sea.

Anyone familiar with railroad construction will tell you that such a subsidy, backed by a free right of way, insures the early building of every line of the Black Diamond System of Railways that can be got ready for construction, backed by a free right of way.

I would be gratified to see a strong delegation from your place and county. It will be the grandest railroad demonstration ever made, because it is a movement of the people to cut the Gordian knot of high freight rates, as well as to rapidly advance the upbuilding of the cities, towns and villages along the lines traversed by the Black Diamond, by concentrating all energies toward local traffic instead of through service. The latter does not help us can or profit any community. Every through passenger train says the life of your section in the interest of the large cities that have no interest in common with its welfare. The policy of the Black Diamond will be just the opposite of other trunk lines: it will work its railways solely in the interest of the people along its lines.

A strong delegation from Knox county, Tenn., have signified their willingness to be present to attest their faith to the Black Diamond cause, and faith in the projector, who is at the helm solely in the interest of the people to be benefited.

Enjoying the hope that you will call a meeting of your people, to the end that your section will be duly represented, I am with respect,

ALBERT E. BOONE,
Promoter and General Manager of the Black Diamond System of Railways.

ONE-SIDED ROAST!

Scoring the Sound Money Democrats of the Senate.

WHY NOT THE REPUBLICANS TOO?

Frankfort Capital.

If Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Worthington had had any support on the floor of the Kentucky Senate, this state would have been spared much of the humiliation that it has endured during the long drawn face that has been enacted in the General Assembly. But the Lieutenant-Governor, though he has proved himself more than a match for the silverite leader, whether in moments of threatened violence or in repartee, yet he could not both preside and at the same time lead the fight on the floor.

And the result has been that Senators Goebel and Bronston at the head of fifteen Free-silver Senators have run the whole body according to their pleasure, and often according to mere caprice. It may not be pleasant for the majority to have plain truth told them, but they were physically afraid of Bronston and Goebel. The former occupied the chair on Tuesday and Senator Bronston occupied the floor. The Lieutenant-Governor offered to take charge of the meeting and conduct the exercises, according to common sense and the Constitution of Kentucky, but the Senators who wished to secure the passage of the Fusion Bill objected to any drastic measures.

It would have been an easy matter for say Sound Money Senator to raise a point of order Wednesday morning against Bronston, and on an adverse decision to have appealed to the Senate. The Lieutenant-Governor would then have taken the chair and in a few minutes the majority could have had business going on in a regular manner. It was perfectly evident that nothing could be better than this, unless Senator Goebel should refuse to surrender the chair pending an appeal, in which case it would have been merely a question of putting the regular presiding officer in the chair. This might have caused a row, and this it was evident the Sound Money men did not care to face.

Sensors Goebel and Bronston did not carry their point by any peculiar parliamentary skill, but by a cold bluff that the opposing majority had not the physical courage to call. The public can hardly condemn these two leaders of the little silver minority for carrying their point against the majority. They used no violence, but succeeded because the opposition was too cowardly to risk a personal difficulty. The people of Kentucky send Sound Money majority to the Legislature, and the representatives of the Sound Money vote the silverite leaders to leaders to give them into submission without a struggle to have the Constitutional presiding officer deposed and to have Senators Goebel and Bronston actually take charge of the State Senate and run things to suit themselves, not even permitting the Sound Money majority to have a voice in the proceedings.

And these shrewd silverite leaders did not even make a threat of violence; they merely bluffed the whole outfit on their supposed dangerous character. If Senator Bronston had raised the point of order that there were too many gold bugs present there is no reason to doubt that a number of amiable Sound Money Senators would have retired rather than have a row. It was a miserable exhibition of physical cowardice, and enough to disgust a game man like Lieutenant Governor Worthington.

The Best Remedy For Rheumatism. From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register.
Mr. James Rowland of this village states that for twenty five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which he had used ever did her as much good. # AN AMENDMENT To the Tariff Bill Providing for an Export Bounty

On Wheat, Corn, Flour and Tobacco Introduced by Senator Cannon.

Examination and Classification of Railway Lands in California—Representatives Visit the Tennessee Cattle and Exposition—Immigration.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Senator Cannon, of Utah, Tuesday introduced an amendment to the tariff bill providing for an export bounty on wheat, corn, flour, tobacco and other farm products.

By way of an equalization to agriculturists of the benefits of this (the tariff) act.

This act is the result of a conference of silver republicans, populists and some democrats which may be said to represent the sentiment of the country which puts silver above all other legislation.

Senator Cassingham, from the committee on public lands, Tuesday reported the bill for the examination and classification of the lands within the railroad grants in California. The bill authorizes the appointment of a commission to conduct the classification, which is to be referred to the mineral or non-mineral character of the lands. It authorizes the rejection of any claims on behalf of the railroad companies which may cover mineral lands.

The senate Tuesday confirmed the following resolutions: Brig. Gen. John R. Brooks, to be major general; George H. McLaughlin, of Montana, agent for the Indians of the Blackfoot agency in Montana; Joseph H. Gaines, of West Virginia, to be United States collector, district of West Virginia; A. M. Johnson, physician at Lennett, Pa.

SIXTEEN FISHERMEN, Adrift in Their Dories, Found Wrecked or Have Been Picked Up by Some Fishermen.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., May 26.—Of the 19 men of this town who sailed on the schooner "Aurora" on Tuesday morning, 16 are still adrift in their dories. The other three have been found water graves, or happily have been picked up by some passing vessel.

All 16 got out from the schooner early Friday morning, but the fog that settled down upon the coast three hours after they were thrown outboard, and after three days of waiting it lifted, but no trace of the men could be found. The men from the schooner Sunday morning, there being no trace of the boats, crews was if the men were still adrift. During the time the three men on the schooner were without sleep, and they reached Provincetown Sunday night. A number of fishermen here are of the opinion that the men will be seen again, either being picked up or rowing to the mainland of Nova Scotia, almost 300 miles distant.

As to the probability of the men being picked up, it is acknowledged that the steamers during this portion of the year take a more southerly course to avoid the ice, and the men, when last seen, were some distance north of the so-called steamer lane. Another fisherman may, however, rescued the men.

PER CAPITA MONEY. Do Prices Depend Upon Amount or Upon Kind of Money?

Facts Which Will Help to Dispel the "More Money" Delusion—Some Powers for the Silverite Professors, Who Are Condemned by the "National Financial School"—Why Are Prices High and Per Capita Money Low in Silver Standard Countries—Should we not be in a hurry to find out the Estimating Amount of Money Which Affects Prices?

One of the numerous fallacies upon which the free silver delusion is founded is the assumption by all silverites and cheap money advocates that prices are regulated by the amount of money in circulation and that there is any necessary relation between prices and amount of money. When driven from one position the bimetallicists take refuge in another just as insecure and illogical, but perhaps a little more hideously sophistical. The more honest element among them do not now assert that to double the amount of money is to double prices. They generally admit great rapidity of circulation and use of credits affect the efficiency of money and prevent an exact statement of the relation between amount of money and prices, but that more money undoubtedly means higher prices, and vice versa.

The per capita idea of money so prevalent with silverites is disproved in many ways. Statistics of prices and amounts of money per capita in different countries at the same or at different times fail to show any certain relation between prices and money. Thus, while prices have declined in the United States and in this country very greatly since 1800 or 1850 or 1872, the amount of money in use has increased. The per capita circulation of the United States is now $14.00, $14.00 in 1850 and $18.10 in 1872 we have more of it $23, and this notwithstanding the greater rapidity of circulation of modern coinage and the vastly improved and extended use of credits. Will some "more money" advocate please explain this state of affairs in connection with the great increase in per capita money.

Again, the per capita circulation of the world standard countries of the world is about $18; that of the silver standard countries only about $4.30. Will some of the silverite professors who are conducting "financial schools" in western and southwestern states explain to their classes why prices in silver standard countries are so much lower than in gold standard countries, although the per capita circulation is less than one-third as great? Will they explain the value of the material from which the money is made has much more to do with the prices than the amount of money in use? Will they explain the fact that gold has always been more valuable, weight for weight, than silver, and that it has recently become 33 times as valuable while most of the estimated ratios of the world were established when gold was only 15 or 16 times as valuable as silver? Will they explain the fact that the value of both gold and silver bullion is fixed in the long run by the cost of production and that therefore the value of bullion does not depend upon the quantity of money in circulation?

Will they try to make it clear that if it takes five hours of labor to produce one bushel of wheat or five hours of labor to produce 23.22 grains of gold one product will exchange for the value of the other, and the price of wheat will be $1 per bushel under the present standard? Will they then add that if it requires only 25 hours of labor to produce one bushel of wheat, and if it takes 275 hours of labor to make a dollar that the bushel of wheat will not exchange for less than two dollars, and that this is the reason why silver standard countries are so poor? They will explain the original "American financial policy," which was to keep the coinage out of the hands of the people, and to keep the market ruled by the banks. They will explain their classes to vote to restore this "thoroughly American financial policy," which was to keep the market ruled by the banks and the silverite professors and cheap money statesmen who are conducting the "national financial school." They will explain the preceding questions, perhaps they are willing to explain what kinds of money are included in making up the amount of money which affects prices. Does it include all kinds of government or state paper money, as well as gold, silver and copper coins? Does it include bank notes, which form a considerable proportion of our present circulating medium? If you include government and bank notes, why not include bank credits? Are not notes and checks and greater exchanges effected by means of checks than by means of either paper money or coins? It is not so much the one who has "credit" (deposits) in a bank to buy and sell as it is the money in his pocket? Do these credits or deposits necessarily consist of money at all? If a man has a certain amount of property, can he not have $10,000 credit with his bank which he can draw out at any time? Cannot such a man buy and sell on a large scale without the use of ordinary money? Why, then, should bank deposits not be included in making up the per capita circulation of the country?

When the classes of the "national financial school" can pass on examination in these "per capita" questions they will prepare a set of questions on other subjects, as, for instance, the cause of high prices, interest rates, the value of high prices, the blessings of cheap money, etc.—Byron W. Holt.

Which Resulted in the Arrest of Sausage-Maker Luetzgert.

Damaging Admissions Made to His Watchman—Employer Told to See the Kind of Man in the Vat to Which the Thing Was Found.

Chicago, May 26.—While lying under a bed in the home of Frank Blak, the former night watchman at the Luetzgert factory, one of Capt. The admissions made by Luetzgert on this occasion are said to have caused the immediate arrest of the man. The police expect to prove by Blak and the detective that Luetzgert murdered and disintegrated the body of his wife in the manner claimed by the respective Schuettler.

Blak was supposed to be ill. Luetzgert visited him at his home. The two talked, and the detective listened from his post beneath the bed.

Blak will swear that Luetzgert ordered him to remain away from the vatroom on the night of May 1; that while during the night he saw him out a bottle of medicine. Upon returning with these articles Luetzgert each time opened the barred doors and reached through the opening to the bottle and hastily closed and barred the door.

The bottle is in the possession of the police. It was found in his sleeping room, unopened, several days after Luetzgert's arrest.

After the trial, Schuettler, the witness said, told him to be careful or he would burn himself.

On the Monday following Mrs. Luetzgert's disappearance Schuettler scrubbed out the basement at Luetzgert's orders. After the closing of the factory Schuettler said he built up the furnace in the factory. When asked if he saw bones in the furnace he said no. On cross-examination, however, he said the first time he had ever been told to sweep and scrub the basement.
